Dear Mr. Nguyen:

This is in response to your request dated and received by the National Reconnaissance Office (NRO) on 30 July 2025. Pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), you are requesting, "I request the original, first generation electronic copy of the final NROL-35 mission logo, which I presume is stored in a vector graphic format."

We processed your request in accordance with the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. § 552 as amended; please be advised that the NRO considered the foreseeable harm standard when reviewing these records and applying FOIA exemptions. A thorough search of our files and databases located one record that is responsive to your request. One record is being released to you in full.

Requesters have the right to appeal any denial determinations upon receipt of a final response. Appeals must be submitted in writing and be postmarked or transmitted within 90 calendar days after the date of the final response. The appeal should clearly identify the agency determination that is being appealed, the assigned request number, and an explanation for the basis for your appeal.

You may seek dispute resolutions from either the NRO FOIA Appellate Authority or from the Office of Government Information Services (OGIS) of the National Archives and Records Administration. OGIS was created to offer mediation services to resolve disputes between FOIA requesters and Federal agencies as a non-exclusive alternative to litigation. Using OGIS services does not affect your right to pursue litigation. Please refer to the OGIS public web page at www.archives.gov/ogis for additional information.
